

NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD—This justly famous road has never been in more perfect condition, more widely known than at present. It will be a pleasure to the passengers of the Empire State. Among the oldest and most important railroads in the country, it challenges comparison, in its structure and management, with the costliest and best appointed roads of Europe, where the beneficent art of guarding human life upon railroads is notoriously carried to a far higher pitch than with ourselves. In the combining of safety, speed, economy, cheapness, and comfort, no road in the Union, if, indeed, it is equalled by any other route. Its high place in the public favor is richly merited. Its world-wide reputation has fairly won, and so numerous and paramount are its advantages, it cannot fail to be triumphantly maintained against the hottest competition. Passengers for the East, who have a particular care for keeping their sons safe, will find the steamer, carriage, will find its appointments especially and successfully adapted to gratify this common favor. It is exactly the road for all that sort of people.

STRAWS—Voted taken on the steamer Tarzan, from Wheeling to Cincinnati, on the 8th; Filmore 56, Fremont 8, Buchanan 7.

TIDE—Take on the St. Louis, from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, on the 6th; Filmore 43, Fremont 3, Buchanan 10.

WILDFIRE—Voted taken on the steamer Fielding Quincy, on the 10th; Filmore 42, Buchanan 8, Fremont 5.

VOTES—Taken on the steamer Kate Satchel, from Cairo to Portland, on the 11th; Filmore 46, Buchanan 11, Fremont 1.

A SHARE—On Wednesday last, a German, who called himself John Albert, purchased a bill of dry goods of one of the wholesale houses on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth. The goods were packed up, and as Albert was a stranger, and did not find it convenient to pay for them until the following morning, he called at the card, in another column, of A. & G. A. Arnoux, the well-known tailors in New York. These gentlemen offer superior inducements to such of our readers who go home to purchase their clothes. Their widely extended reputation is still unimpaired.

Albert, who was a German name, Hoffer, and he would be sure to call and settle the following morning. This request was acceded to by the clerk who sold him the goods, and Albert ordered the draymen to go up Green street to take some other goods which he had purchased there. The clerk went to the house where the goods were sent, and when he stopped, which was on the corner of Chestnut and Hanover streets, at a grocery kept by a German named Hoffer, and he would be sure to call and settle the following morning. Being energetic, prompt, and knowing the wants and wishes of their customers, they will be enabled to give entire satisfaction to all who may look upon them when in that city.

MEETINGS—S. G. Henry & Co. have a regular sale of dry goods this morning, Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, at auction-rooms, and at half-past 11 o'clock, six cans and boxes of pentade gauze and window hings and butts partially damaged by water. Sale by account of underwriters.

PEACE—While asking the insertion of the following testimonial of respect for son of your neighbor, Mr. Edward E. Egan, I do not mean to mingle in the affairs of others, but I am anxious to have the same done for me, too.

ALBERT—Albert, called here, to the store according to promise, but did not find him convenient to settle his bill, and asked an extension of time till the next day, which was granted. Friday came and passed, and so did Saturday, but Albert did not come. On making inquiry for him at Hause's, it was ascertained that he had left on Thursday evening on the Nashville road, and the goods a messenger, directed for him, on arrival, to Springfield, heard that he had sold the goods at much under their value, and had left. He is described as a man about 24 years of age, and he was dressed in a velvet coat.

THE FALL TRADE—Our japers are fully prepared for the fall trade. The supply of dry and fancy goods, made cloth clothes, boots and shoes, hardware, hats and caps, and other staple articles, are large and very selected.

The merchants of the West and Southwest will find the stocks complete and suited especially for their respective sections, and our dealers are determined to furnish them on as reasonable terms as can be purchased in the Eastern cities. They who have not yet imported their goods, or purchased direct from the importer or manufacturer. Purchase of this kind can only be made in large packages, too large for the retailer, who is necessarily compelled to buy from a wholesale house in the Eastern city in the same manner as he buys from a wholesale house here.

The retailer, who buys at the East, to incur the same traveling expenses for goods valued at $50,000, will be compelled to pay taxes of many hundred thousand. As far as other disadvantage to the Western dealer in buying East is the time saved not only in traveling, but in making proper selections. Here he finds everything already selected for him and we take the difference in transportation of the Western dealer has also the advantage. His goods were transacted the greatest part of the way by steamship, and the goods were in good condition when he got them. If in this life only we had more reasonable indeed seem such a fate! Just here my resolution raises our thoughts and feelings to the highest point. We are now in a position to do great things. If the Western merchant will take the views we have taken, and we give him to be correct, he will most assuredly give that market the preference.
